Let's Start!

Let's go on a group tour!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like to travel? Why? Why not?
- Do you prefer to travel alone or on group tours? Why? Why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about things to do or take on a trip.
- I can ask for and give instructions.
- I can give extended warnings, recommendations, or advice.

Let's Explore!

John gives instructions to the tour group. Where are they going?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- John: OK, everyone. We are about to disembark in Buenos Aires. Remember to bring your maps with you. Don't leave the group at any time. If you are wearing jewelry, you are a target for thieves. Keep all valuables hidden. When you travel in groups, you stick out like a sore thumb.
- Tourist #1: What if we get lost?
- John: If you are lost, the map guides you to the meeting place. It is marked with a red star. Wait there. The Argentinians are very friendly if you ask for help.
- Tourist #2: Do Argentinians speak English?
- John: Well, when you're in Argentina, people speak Spanish.
- Tourist #2: You're right ...
- John: OK, let's go. Have fun, and remember to stay with the group.

Let's Practice!

John gives instructions to the group. What does he say?

Instructions: Underline all the Imperatives in the paragraph.

OK, everyone. We are about to disembark in Buenos Aires. Remember to bring your maps with you. Don't leave the group at any time. If you are wearing jewelry, you are a target for thieves. Keep all valuables hidden. When you travel in groups, you stick out like a sore thumb. What do you do if you get lost? Wait at the meeting place if you get lost. Have fun!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

The Zero Conditional

You use the zero conditional to talk about general truths and certainties.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

if or when + subject + the Simple Present tense

Condition	Result
If you are lost,	the map guides you to the meeting place.
When you travel in groups,	you stick out like a sore thumb.

Examples:

- When you are in Argentina, people speak Spanish.
- If you are wearing jewelry, you are a target for thieves.

Giving Instructions

There are different ways to give instructions.

You can use Imperatives, like "Follow me ..." or "Remember to ...".

You can ask for instructions using phrases like "What if ... ?" or "What do I do ... ?"

Examples:

- Keep all valuables hidden.
- Remember to bring your maps.
- What if we get lost?
- Wait at the meeting place.
